

Forthcoming Event:

Annual National Schoolboy's 7's supper and AGM of the London branch of the Old Llandoverian Society

After a very successful supper at London Welsh RFC last year, the supper will, once again, be held at Old Deer Park.

This year the guest of honour will be
John Taylor the former Wales International and British Lion,

Date: 25th March 2010

Venue: London Welsh RFC, Old Deer Park, Richmond, TW9 2AZ

Time: AGM, 6.15pm- supper, 7.00 for 7.30pm

Tickets: £25.00 Cheques made payable to the "Old Llandoverian Society London Branch" and sent to Steve Meyler

Dress: Lounge suit

Please contact:

Shaun Parry-Jones for further information on sp-j@zen.co.uk

Old Llandoverian Society
LONDON BRANCH

Biennial Dinner

on

5th February 2010

at

The East India Club, St. James's Square, London

Supported by

Guest of Honour

Guto Harri

Guto was born in Cardiff in 1966. He read Politics, Philosophy and Economics at Queen's College, Oxford and then took a postgraduate course in Broadcast Journalism in Cardiff. He was a regular presenter on BBC TV and radio eventually becoming North American Business correspondent based in New York until June 2007. He is now Communications Director for the current Mayor of London's team.

Master of Ceremonies

Rhodri Williams

Rhodri is the son of Jenny Ogwen the well known Welsh TV presenter. He is himself a TV and radio presenter and has presented numerous programmes for S4C; he was also ITV Wales' presenter of the Rugby World Cup 2007.

We are delighted that both Guto and Rhodri are able to be with us this evening.

Menu

Tartare of smoked and fresh salmon with sour cream and chives

Steak, kidney and mushroom pie served with chef's choice of vegetables and potatoes

Bread and butter pudding with fresh cream

Farmhouse British cheese plate served with celery, grapes and biscuits

Coffee and mints