

Local students shine in both A level and GCSE at Llandoverly College

When she arrived at Llandoverly College to collect her results, Llandoverly girl Angharad Davies was over the moon to receive not one but two of the demanding and highly prized new A* grades in her A levels. Talented sports woman Angharad who captains the Welsh Cross Country team, showed that her abilities are wide ranging indeed by being awarded an A* in the demanding subject of English Literature.

Fluent Welsh speaker, Angharad also gained an A grade in French and her second A* in PE. With this success behind her, Angharad will take up her first choice offer from Bath University.

There were many proud moments with no fewer than 18 pupils being awarded As and family hugs all round for the fab four Josh Basey, Angharad Davies, Gary Ka Yui Chan and David Eckert who reached the pinnacle of academic achievement by gaining the new "gold standard" A* grades.

In addition to Angharad Davies, a delighted Gary Ka Yui Chan takes two A*s and two As back home to his proud parents in Hong Kong. A creditable 96.3% pass rate highlighted some stand-out performances in Chemistry, French, RS and English with exceptional results, and indeed History, German and Chinese where only one pupil just missed an A or an A*.

Llandoverly College

Against a backdrop of past Oxbridge scholars' names on the walls of the Llandoverly College library, the GCSE results were equally impressive for local pupils. Bethan Thomson and Gwennie Rees-Evans both achieved straight As or A*s.

There was further joy for Bryn Jenkins, Katie Jennings, Joseff Morgan, Tim James and Josh Hope-Bell who all acquired a hatful of As and A* grades.

The results included a very strong showing across all 3 of the sciences. Almost 70% of exams taken were C grade or above.

In a very mixed ability year group, it was clear that results were going to be wide ranging, but even those pupils who had struggled with the academic demands of the curriculum were justly delighted with their excellent results.

Llandoverly College